

CCCC Results

The winning square was #689. The time limit of 1 hour was reached without the cow answering nature's call on the grid. The winning square was determined by the fact that three of the cow's feet were in the square when the time limit was reached. Due to the fact this square was not purchased, it was by contest rules a Cal University square and a check for $1,000 was made out to the Foundation for California University of Pa.

I want to thank everyone who participated in this effort to promote the development of academic and athletic scholarships at California University of Pennsylvania.

Best of Life, Luck and Love to all of you,

Nick Martin